LANCASTER, KY., THURSDAY, JULY 26, 1900.

ONE DOLLAR A YEAR

LANCASTER AND VICINITY.

Visit Joe Nicklass' shaving parlor.

Buy Banner Bread, fresh every day, at Blue Grass Grocery.

For all kind of repairing of Buggy, Pleatons, etc., go to Conn's Carriage shop.

If you are in need of furniture go to J. A. Beazley's where you can get the best goods for the least money.

See our hot weather clothing, serge coats and vests, crash suits at low prices. LOGAN & ROBINSON.

On Monday a large crowd of people were seen rushing in the grocery store of Gaines & Ball to take advantage of their low price on goods.

COURT DAY.

About half the average crowd was in town Monday and no great amount of business was transacted. Some farmers are busy in their meadows and threshing wheat.

HUSTONVILLE FAIR.

President James P. Harper, and treasurer J. H. Hocker, of the Hustonville Fair, were here advertising on Monday. The Fair will be held on August 1, 2 and 3.

The Old Wheel Horse.

During our absence, Judge M. D. Hughes was at the helm in THE RECORD office, and this issue is the fruits of his skilled hand and big brain. It will be remembered that the last time we left him in charge, he kicked up a time or two and ran into the democratic camp. This time a 'brake' was tied to the tail of the old wheel-horse so he could not get it over the lines and scare again.

A Worthy Minister.

Elia A. R. Moore, a native of Bourbon county, who is preaching at Memphis, preached at the Christian church on Sunday, and his logic, oratory and attractive manner captivated the entire congregation. All are so well pleased that it is almost certain that he will be called as pastor of that church. The members are congratulating themselves on the prospects of securing such an able minister. During his stay here he was entertained by Mr. H. A. B. Marksbury.

Visit Joe Nicklass' shaving parlor.

Go to J. A. Beazley for a new and beautiful line of wall paper.

Nice, eight-room cottage for rent. For terms apply to G. S. Gaines or J. M. Logan.

THANKS.

This office is thankful to Mrs. G. T. Farris for a basket of fine apples.

Meat will bring the highest price of the year if brought to us this week.

Gaines & Ball.

We will guarantee our prices to be as low on first-class groceries as any other firm in Lancaster.

Gaines & Ball.

MARRIED.

At the home of the bride's father, Jerome Layton, Mr. Caleb Johnson and Miss Lucinda Layton were married on the 18th, by Rev. T. H. Campbell, assisted by Rev. R. A. Thomson.

TEACHERS EXAMINATIONS.

The examination of white teachers will be held in Miss Lusk's office July 20 and 21. That for colored teachers will be held at same place July 27 and 28.

LOOK HERE.

Two car loads of Buggies, Surries, Pleatons and Road-Wagons, go at a sacrifice. Now is the best chance ever offered in Lancaster for a bargain.

W. J. ROMANS.

BUGGY SHOPPING.

Ed Bishop is thankful to the lady who called him from the store to her buggy and asked for a spool of thread, handing him the money at the same time. They generally hand the money to be changed, after goods are brought out, thus causing an extra trip.

BIG TIMES AT NICHOLASVILLE.

The Street Fair to be held in Nicholasville next Wednesday and Thursday will be one of the most enjoyable entertainments held in Central Kentucky this summer. The good people of our neighboring city have labored unceasingly in perfecting arrangements, and all who attend are assured a most pleasant time. Nicholasville never does things by halves, and her reputation for hospitality will be fully substantiated.

WHAT OTHERS THINK OF IT.

A FEW CLIPPINGS FROM EXCHANGES, REGARDING THE PROPOSED RAIL ROAD THROUGH GARRARD.

(COURIER-JOURNAL.)

The report that the Southern railway will undertake the construction of a branch from Burgin to Jellico is distinctly encouraging, as hope in that matter was at a low ebb a few months ago. The proposed line is to be 115 miles in length and would call for the expenditure of over $2,000,000 so it is a considerable item to the industries of the State. What is of more importance is that the example of the Southern in thus building is encouragement to hope for similar enterprises elsewhere in Kentucky.

Ordinarily speaking, there are few States which offer so inviting a field for railroad building as Kentucky, but scarcely anything has been done in this line for a number of years. The world-wide demand for coal and iron calls particular attention to our vast mineral resources. Coal is to be found by millions of tons in measures that have as yet been untouched, and iron ore is equally accessible and cheap. The timber resources of the State are also of enormous value if only means of transportation to market can be found. In the section through which the projected Southern branch is to run there is particular abundance of both mineral and timber wealth.

Doubtless the fact that there has been so little railroad building projected in Kentucky this year is because of fears that capital will not be welcomed and may suffer from arbitrary laws. The lawlessness witnessed at Frankfort has also had a deterrent effect. Yet in spite of what has been exaggerated and distorted it can be truthfully said that capital and enterprise are as safe in Kentucky as in any other State in the Union. Legislation has never assumed the extremely restrictive form that has characterized many States in the South and West. Our labor laws are liberal and our taxes, after all, are below the average.

We can enable any railroad or any manufacturer that comes to Kentucky to make money, and we will protect their persons and property in spite of all the wild romances of yellow journalism and the vapors of demagogues. The Southern railway is wise in following the example of the Illinois Central and Big Four, which have spent vast sums here for which they are receiving large returns. Other roads and enterprises will profit by recognizing this.

(CINCINNATI ENQUIRER.)

Mr. G. L. Prescott, a capitalist of London, England, is at the Grand. "I have just returned here from a trip to the Kentucky mountain counties of Pulaski and Laurel, where I have 7,000 acres of fine timber and coal lands," said Mr. Prescott, "and sail for England next Wednesday, I married in Wisconsin, and was in that state when I started for Kentucky. 'What? You are not going to go to Kentucky? They will shoot you!' What nonsense. A man is just as safe there as anywhere in the world if he attends to his own business, and I never hear of an outsider being molested or harmed. About all they hear up north of the state is somebody being shot. I bought the lands I referred to seven years ago, and have been all over the mountains, and was always treated with the greatest kindness. I never thought of carrying a revolver, but did carry a roll of money without fear of being robbed. The state has a name it does not deserve. It is one of the greatest states in the Union if it had a chance.

"I am holding my timber, oak and poplar, for still further advance, which I think is sure to come. You ought to see the vast quantities of American timber on the docks in London. They have an idea that there is no end to it, but there is, and in many sections North and South the supply has been exhausted, and the time is not far distant when there will be a famine in many varieties of American timber. It is going fast, and all merchantable timber is now very valuable.

"I believe the Southern Railway system is going to extend its line from Burgin, on the Queen and Crescent, to Jellico, 130 miles. They have surveyed the route and are keeping exceedingly quiet about it, which to me is significant. They have secured terminals at Louisville."

(LEXINGTON HERALD.)

There is considerable talk in the mountains concerning the railroad which the Southern Railway intends building from Burgin, Ky., to Jellico, Tenn., to connect with its Knoxville-Jellico branch, formerly the property of the Louisville & Nashville railway.

It is the general opinion that the Burgin-Jellico link will be built, as rights-of-way have been secured. The road will go from Burgin to the Rockcastle river down to the Cumberland river. When the road strikes Williamsburg, Whitley county, it will turn off in a straight line south to Jellico, twenty miles distant. This road will be built pierce some of the richest sections of timber and coal in the South. It will be of inestimable benefit to the Kentucky mountains and means thousands of dollars to the mountain people. There is land rich in timber and coal in the mountains which cannot be operated because of no transportation facilities.

(COURIER-JOURNAL.)

The Board of Directors of the Commercial Club met yesterday afternoon and named the standing committees for the ensuing year and discussed some important questions, chief among them the projected extension of the Southern railway from Burgin thro' Garrard county and Lancaster to Jellico, there to connect with the Cincinnati Southern railway. The right-of-way can be secured for $50,000, and as $25,000 has been pledged the club believes citizens of Louisville should see that the remainder is raised. The club is confident the new road would be of great advantage to the merchants in bringing to Louisville trade that now goes to Cincinnati.

(COURIER-JOURNAL.)

The published statement that the Louisville Commercial Club had donated $50,000 toward the completion of a branch line of the Southern Railway at Jellico, is denied by the Commercial Club officials. The fact of the matter is that a committee some weeks ago came to Louisville for the purpose of securing assistance in the project, which, though heartily indorsed by the club, was not contributed to in a financial way. The proposition as originally made was that the property owners contribute $25,000 to the completion of the branch, in order to secure a right-of-way, and the Louisville Commercial Club to contribute a like amount.

(THE KENTUCKY PRESS.)

(THE NEWSPAPER BOYS MEET IN LOUISVILLE. THEY ARE ROYALLY ENTERTAINED AND HAVE A BIG TIME.)

The editor of THE RECORD had the pleasure of attending the meeting of the Kentucky Press Association at Louisville Monday and Tuesday. The objects of the organization are the same as those of all other business associations, viz: to discuss our interests, be drawn more closely together socially and spend a time in sight-seeing and rest. So far as the latter two points are concerned, we were deprived of those pleasures, save the cordial and handsome entertainment received in Louisville. The editors take an annual trip to some northern resort and spend a week or ten days recuperating and preparing for the long year's work they will have to do before they get another breathing spell. Many people think they think that publishing a paper is easily done, the work light and all is one sweet dream. But in this they are sadly mistaken. There is no business where one is more closely confined, does more hard work or receives less thanks for favors than in a country office. A fellow may raise his brain with a fine tooth comb trying to find something good to say, and nine times in ten the one "boosted" will never so much as say "much obliged." Every fellow knows how the paper should be run, but they are not willing to undertake the job. Some day, when we editors get rich, we will have certain hours to open our place of business, close promptly at a certain time and when a man wants to patronize us, we will "accommodate" him, just to gaze upon the happy set of gentlemen at Louisville, one would judge each to be a fat, for example, a brown-stone front, twenty feet high and enough meal flour and corn wood to run him the balance of his natural life.

Business meetings were held Monday and Tuesday during which a splendid paper was read by members, Count Giovannoli, of the Danville Advocate. Other papers and speeches added to the occasion. Col. R. W. Brown, of the Louisville Times, was elected president and Harry McCarty of the Nicholasville Journal, vice president. Bob Morningstar, who Col. Craddock was secretary when he (Craddock) was a little boy, was re-elected secretary. The boys, about 150 strong, left Tuesday night for a trip through the north-west.

The association has never been more royally entertained than they were by the Louisville newspaper men, the Commercial Club board of Trade. A banquet fit for gods was spread at the beautiful Fountain Farm Park Monday night. Col. Brown presided as toastmaster, and speeches were made by Col. Belknap, Mr. Frank L. Hartwell, J. W. Hopper, Dan E. O'Sullivan and other gentlemen, while Miss Elvira Sydor Miller, the ragtime laurie o' the Louisville Times, delighted us with one of the best talks we have ever had the pleasure of listening to. The banquet lasted until after midnight, when the editor of the Times, the bar room and were soon lost in the dreamy waltz, with the lovely and beautiful Louisville girls for partners. "Trolley" rides and numerous other entertainments made up the last days program.

The editor will long remember the handsome manner in which they were entertained at the Fifth Avenue Hotel, which Manager Pike Campbell has made the most popular stopping place in the State. Excellent fare, prompt service, nicely furnished rooms are among the luxuries to be had. Conveniently located, it is a most charming place to stop.

Our Mr. Farra went on the trip and when we saw him last, was having more fun than a box of monkeys.

Take your watches, clocks and jewelry for repair to J. C. Thompson.

We have a little more sugar at the old prices.

Gaines & Ball.

The best and cheapest line of Buggies, Surries, etc., that has ever been in town at Conn's Carriage Shop.

Don't be deceived, but go to Conn's Carriage Shop for bargains in Buggies, Surries, Pleatons, Road Carts, etc.

Prices O. K.

Base Ball.

Our 2nd base ball nine beat Nicholasville's 1st nine on their own grounds—the score being 15 to 10, Saturday.

Judge J. C. Hemphill will come home on Saturday July 28, to meet his Building and Loan patrons, and return to the Springs that night.

In a column of write-ups of the editors, the Louisville Times says:

"LOUIS LANDRAM.—Heart as big as a barrel: always on the lookout to do some friend a good turn. Not a politician but a perpetual candidate to fill some office of hospitality to others. Stalwart, popular about thirty-five, and with a clean record, as the people of Lancaster will testify."

Plenty of Milk.

While in town Monday Joe Waters told us that a Lancaster physician reported to him a case without a parallel. And that is that he (the doctor) has a patient over the line in a neighboring county with a young baby and the flow of milk is so great that her own infant is not only abundantly supplied by its mother, but she also nurses a pair of colored babies and also two fine hound puppies. It is one case among ten thousand and the talk of the neighborhood. The lady is one of the best in the land, but has fine Jersey and Holstein qualifications.

DOCTORS' MEETING.

The session of the Central Kentucky Medical Association, held in this city last Thursday, was an interesting one. Those present were: Drs. Bush, Herring, Acton, Wesley, Grant, Evans and Kinnard, of Lancaster; Elliott and Taylor, Bryantsville; Carpenter, Stanford; Pitman, Parksville; Casenburg, Paint Lick and Dr. Bertie Carpenter, of Hustonville. Dr. Elliott read a paper on "Gastro Enteritis," Dr. Carpenter one on "Spinal Deformities" and Dr. Wesley reported on recent progress in Materia Medica and Therapeutics. All papers were ably discussed. The next meeting will be in Danville, and Dr. Steele Bailey will read a paper on "Diabetes." Dr. Taylor acted as president and Dr. Kinnard, as secretary.

Fields' Minstrels, Porter J. White's "Faust," The Care-Keene Co., Maud Beauregard, Gus Sun's Minstrels, Brown & Wilson's Minstrels, "A Wire Woman."

OBITUARY.

Mr. Hunley Singleton died at his residence in this city, on last Friday night, in the 48th year of age, of paralysis, having suffered for several weeks. Funeral services were conducted at the residence on Sunday morning by Revs. Leonidas Robinson and T. H. Campbell, and many friends and relatives followed the remains to Lancaster Cemetery. Deceased was well-known, having conducted a meat market here for several years and having also engaged in farming and trading. Some time ago he was Marshal of this town, and he discharged his duties faithfully, displaying courage and a disposition to see the law enforced. For many years he was a leader in the Baptist church. He was a kind husband and father. He carried a $2,000 protection in the Knights of the Maccabees, which amount will be paid to his widow and assist in rearing the four bright children who survive him.

Solitary meditation naturally gives some people a poor opinion of mankind.

The blood is strained and purified by the kidneys. No hope of health while the kidneys are wrong. FOLEY'S KIDNEY CURE will make healthy kidneys and pure blood. Nothing else "just as good." C. C. & J. E. Stormes.

When life is not worth living, you can nearly always blame it on the liver.

If you are sick all over, and don't know just what ails you, it's ten to one your kidneys are out of order. Foley's Kidney Cure will bring health and energy. C. C. & J. E. Stormes.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has saved the lives of thousands of croupy children. It is also without an equal for colds and whooping cough. For sale by R. E. McRoberts.

No matter how cruel fate may be, the washerwoman always manages to hang out.

"We have sold many different cough remedies, but none has given better satisfaction than Chamberlain's," says Mr. Charles Holzhauser, Druggist, Newark N. J. "It is perfectly safe and can be relied upon in all cases of coughs and hoarseness. Sold by R. E. McRoberts druggist.

What is the social system of this country needs most is a good blood purifier.

Spent A Good Farm Doctoring.

Mr. A. N. Noel of Ashville, Kansas, says he spent a good farm doctoring himself for chronic diarrhoea but got no relief and was afraid that he must die. He changed to get hold of a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and was permanently cured by it. For sale by R. E. McRoberts druggist.

It was a Quaker woman who proposed the following cosmetics: "For the lips, truth; for the voice, prayer; for the eyes, pity; for the hands, charity; for the figure, uprightness, and for the heart, love."

Question Answered.

Yes, August Flower still has the largest sale of any medicine in the civilized world. Your mothers' and grandmothers' never thought of using anything else for indigestion or biliousness.

Doctors were scarce, and they seldom heard of Appendicitis, Nervous Prostration or Heart failure, etc. They used August Flower to clean out the system and stop fermentation of undigested food, regulate the action of the liver, stimulate the nervous and organic action of the system and that is all they took when feeling dull and bad with headaches and other aches. You only need a few doses of Green's August Flower, in liquid form to make you satisfied there is nothing serious the matter with you. For sale by C. C. & J. E. Stormes.

How to Dress Properly.

Young girls make a distinction in their dress for little dinners by wearing lace or chiffon sleeves with their low-necked gowns.

A hostess shows good taste in dressing somewhat more simply than her guests.

It is a reversal of the proprieties when a mother dresses her daughters in a more expensive style than herself.

In the street elaborate dressing is in bad taste.

For church a woman's dress, while suitable to her station, should be so inconspicuous as to prove no distraction to her fellow worshippers, and never suggest even by its tastefulness that it has occupied her thoughts overmuch.

A woman's appearance must suggest that quality expressed in the slang of the day as "well groomed."

For driving and coaching we now initiate the good sense and practical utility of English women's dress. No gauze parasols, no dainty fur-burbles, but garments that bear neither sun, rain nor dust.—July Ladies' Home Journal.

Scissors Sharpened at Home.

The whetstone is not held in the ordinary way as in sharpening a knife, but is applied in a manner quite the reverse. It will be noticed that the edge of each blade of the scissors is beveled. The blade which is to be sharpened should be held firmly between the thumb and fingers of the left hand, so that the beveled edge will be perfectly horizontal. To do this the scissors must be held in a slanting position. Then lay the whetstone flat upon the beveled edge and rub gently back and forth. If the scissors are not very dull, perhaps a dozen strokes may be sufficient to sharpen them. To test them see if they can be made to cut a wet rag.

If they will they may be considered sharp, but if not they must be sharpened more. This method of sharpening shears and scissors was learned from a hardware dealer who practiced it continually in his business.—Ex.

Literary Note.

In the lazy days of mid-summer, when bodily and mental energy are at their lowest ebb, the chief demand is to be entertained, and this has been well considered in preparing the August number of the Delineator. In the fiction presented, three more diverse styles could hardly be imagined.

Francis Lynde's story of Love and Adventure, with the scene laid in Colorado, is in his happiest vein. Cornelia Atwood Pratt's dainty sketch, "Clothes and the Woman," is one that has a telling title, as every woman will confess: while the Oberlin Tales—stories founded upon college experiences in Oberlin, Ohio—charm by their very naturalness. Eliot Gregory's concluding paper on the Paris Exposition, in the August number of the Delineator, is full of life and brightness, and dull must be the imagination that cannot accompany him over the sunlit space of the Exposition grounds and see with him the wonders of the last World's Fair of the century: the strange people who have come to be seen, and the peoples who have come to see.

Take Your Choice.

Blood Troubles: Cancer, Scrofula, Old Sores, Rheumatism, Contagious Blood Poison, Chronic Ulcers.

As the blood contains all the elements necessary to sustain life, it is important that it be kept free of all impurities, or it becomes a source of disease, poisoning instead of nourishing the body, and loss of health is sure to follow. Some poisons enter the blood from without, through the skin by abrasion, or inoculation; others from within, as when waste products accumulate in the system and ferment, allowing disease germs to develop and be taken into the circulation. While all blood troubles have one common origin, each has some peculiarity to distinguish it from the other. Contagious Blood Poison, Scrofula, Cancer, Rheumatism, Eczema and other blood diseases can be distinguished by a certain sore, ulcer, eruption or inflammation appearing on the skin. Every blood disease shows sooner or later on the outside and on the weakest part of the body, or where it finds the least resistance. Many mistake the sore or outward sign for the real disease, and attempt a cure by the use of salves, liniments and other external applications. Valuable time is lost and no permanent benefit derived from such treatment.

BLOOD TROUBLES REQUIRE BLOOD REMEDIES; the poison must be completely and permanently eradicated—the blood reinforced, purified and cleansed, or the disease goes deeper and saps the very life. Mercury, Potash and Arsenic, the treatment usually prescribed, though blood doses—never cure, but do much harm by adding another poison to the already pernicious.

S. S. S. Nature's own remedy, made of roots and herbs, attacks the disease in the blood, antidotes and forces out all impurities, makes weak, thin blood rich, strong and healthy, and at the same time builds up the general health. S. S. S. is the only purely vegetable blood purifier known, and the only one that can reach deep-seated blood troubles. A record of 50 years of successful cures proves it to be a reliable, unfailing specific for all blood and skin troubles.

Russia is being invaded by American enterprise and her own wares are being undersold by those of the Yankee. This is causing some dissatisfaction among the czar's manufacturers and strong talk is indulged in of putting up a strong tariff fence. The excellence of American products is being appreciated by the world more every day, and they are sure to work their way to people who want them.

At a recent auction of range horses at the Omaha Stock Yards 700 head were sold. A load of fancy yearlings were knocked down at $18 per head, with the general run of yearling selling $8 to $14. Two loads of extra choice 1,300-lb. western-bred horses and mares went at $60 per head, with the common to good grades going at $17.50 to $40 for three-year-olds and upwards. Two-year-olds are quotable at $15 to $17.50.

The total number of cattle in the world is estimated at 100,000,000, of which 44,000,000 are in the United States. The number of sheep in the principal countries of the world is 410,000,000; Great Britain has 30,500,000; France, 21,500,000; Germany, 11,000,000; Russia, 44,500,000; Spain, 13,250,000; Argentina, 74,250,000; United States, 39,000,000; Uruguay, 16,250,000; Australia, 110,500,000.

The total value of the eggs and chickens marketed in the United States last year was $290,000,000. The magnitude of the poultry industry is made more evident in the fact that the value of the 1898 potato crop was only $80,000,000, and the total value of the pig iron output of the world exceeds $630,000,000, while the annual output of coal amounts to about $200,000,000.

H. V. Jones, in a conservative review of the crop situation in the Northwest, says that after a personal inspection of the fields he predicts that the yield of wheat in the three states—Minnesota and North and South Dakota—will be at the very least 125,000,000 bushels, as against 110,000,000 last year, and that with favorable weather during the ensuing four weeks the yield will reach 150,000,000 bushels. This is the highest estimate yet made.

Never water tomato plants by sprinkling or pouring water on them. If moisture is needed draw a furrow, ten inches deep, both ways between the plants. With the hose fill the furrows with water and then close them. This will give the plants moisture which they need at a right place, i. e., at roots. At the same time the soil can be kept loose around the plant. When plants begin to drop over, place straw between the rows or train them to stakes 3½ feet high. Keep trimmed quite closely and if you do not grow tomatoes it will be hard to give the reason why.—Ex.

Hogs are scarce in Clark county almost ever before. Several causes have united to produce this result. Hogs have been bringing pretty good prices all the season. Corn has been scarce and high, and this has caused the sale of everything big enough to butcher. A great many pigs of 55 pounds or thereabouts, have been shipped, and there is hardly enough hogs in Clark county to furnish bacon for the people, and most of the hogs on hand are mere pigs and must grow much before being serviceable.

Among the features of the St. Louis Exposition to be held in 1903 will be a mammoth watch, which will be flat on its back. It is to have a polished metal case just like that of an ordinary watch, and will be so large and roomy inside that people will be able to walk around in it among the moving wheels.

The diameter of this mammoth time-piece will be seventy-five feet, and its height or thickness forty feet. The balance wheel will weigh a ton, and what is called the "hair-spring" in a small watch will be as thick as a man's wrist. The length of the main-spring will be 300 feet.

Danville Advocate.—M. J. Farris has threshed and delivered to Anderson & Spillman 13,230 bushels of wheat from 520 acres. This wheat belonged to Mr. Farris and his tenants and was sold at 8¢ cents. The general average was about twenty-five bushels, though some of the field made thirty-one bushels....Anderson & Spillman have received since July 1 over 80,000 bushels of wheat and Cogar & Cogar have received between 50,000 and 60,000 bushels. The local dealers say that the rush to deliver the crop is unprecedented. Frequently forty or fifty wagons are in line waiting their turn to unload.

America's greatest cereal, Indian corn, has been slow to find favor in the New World, but in the last few years, under the systematic efforts of interested parties, it has rapidly advanced in European countries, both as a food for man and stock. At the Paris exposition is established in the United States exhibit a corn kitchen where its use as a food is demonstrated. In this kitchen are several celebrated corn cake and corn dodger and hoe cake bakers from the South, especially Kentucky. Growing out of this and other means of demonstration is wide-spread agitation in favor of the appointment of a commission to visit this country and ascertaining the best means of introducing corn into France. In the course of a few years it is likely that the exportation of corn will be in large proportions.

An Epidemic of Diarrhoea.—Mr. A. Sanders, writing from Cocoman Grove, Fla., says there has been a quiet epidemic of diarrhoea there.
